

NEWS

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONTACT:

Chad Smith
Communications Manager
Girl Scouts in the Heart of Pennsylvania
800.692.7816 x 1026
csmith@gshpa.org

York Mayor Speaks to Girl Scouts at Special Ceremony

June 8, 2010 (YORK, PA) – “Meeting the mayor would be like meeting the president,” commented some York area Girl Scouts in the Heart of Pennsylvania. And on Friday, June 4, 2010 those girls got their wish as Mayor Kim Bracey spoke at a Girl Scout ceremony at Fahrquar Park in York.

More than 80 Girl Scouts, their friends and family attended the ceremony that celebrated the girls moving from one level of Girl Scouting to the next. The mayor spoke about important choices in life and inspired the girls to stay in school and stay involved in activities like Girl Scouts.

After the ceremony the girls provided entertainment including a talent show, fashion show and sing-a-long.

Girl Scouts in the Heart of Pennsylvania helps today’s girls become tomorrow’s leaders. For more information about becoming a Girl Scout or a volunteer, please visit www.gshpa.org or call 1.800.692.7816.

###

Mayor Bracey poses with Girl Scouts from the White Rose Service Unit in York, Pennsylvania.

Mayor Bracey tells the girls to make smart choices in life and stay involved in great organizations like the Girl Scouts.

Girl Scouts from the White Rose Service Unit in York take part in the bridging ceremony.