If you enjoy making art projects, this is the event for you! Come to 2000 Degrees to paint a small piece of your choice. Each girl will have the option of many different pieces to choose from. Get creative and learn a bit about pottery. Embrace your creativity and paint your passion onto a usable piece. Every girl will earn at least one component toward her Colors and Shapes Try-It. Price includes one piece, two hours of studio time, and a tour of the kiln process. Pottery must be kiln fired and cooled before you can take it home, so please make arrangements that evening to pick up or ship your finished pottery (at troop expense) later that week.

Would you like to learn about ways to save the environment? The Penn State Advanced Vehicle Team will be holding fun and exciting events at their garage to teach the Girl Scouts how to stay sustainable in their every day life and in automobiles too! Girl Scouts who attend this event will learn about the team and how they are building a hybrid vehicle to save the environment. Enjoy activities like Energy 101: Using Energy in Everyday Life, play energy bingo, attend a "What is a Hybrid?" Presentation, and build a car out of popsicle sticks and race it. Girls Scouts will also learn the importance of math and science in elementary school. Team members will be on site to give tours of the garage and of the hybrid vehicles as well! Parents and Scout leaders are encouraged to attend as well.

Travel with us to a land of tall bamboo, rice paddy terraces, and volcanic peaks as an age-old tale unfolds. This production recreates an Indonesian tale with original hand-carved puppets and Indonesian costumes. Puppeteer Carolyn Koerber combines storytelling and puppetry to help children appreciate this fascinating Asian culture while teaching them about kindness and compassion. After the show, join Carolyn for a puppet workshop. Every girl will make a simple puppet from found and recycled materials. Then the girls will learn how to bring that puppet alive through movement and sound. Girls will use well known rhymes to create surprising new puppet stories of their own. Brownies can use the workshop towards the Puppets, Dolls and Plays Try-It. Price includes show, workshop, puppet supplies and ideas to continue the experience at troop meetings. Don't forget to pack a lunch!
