Leading the Way Troop Award Patch Design Contest Winner

Thank you to everyone who entered the design a patch contest for the new Leading the Way Troop Award. The launch of the Girl Scout Leadership experience is a great time to showcase how your troop leads with this award. Girls will be able to excel in troop management, volunteer development, and troop/group leadership activities.

The online voting was tallied and the winner of the contest is Blair Orndorf from Chambersburg. Blair is a second year Junior at Calvary United Methodist Church. Blair has been in Girl Scouting for six years. She recently earned her God and Family Award and is currently working on her Bronze Award. Blair's project involves getting donations for birthday bags to be used at her local Women in Need shelter for the children who celebrate birthdays while living there.

Her favorite part of Girl Scouting is going camping for a weekend with her troop. She enjoys visiting sites that are far away from her home and in the forests. She likes seeing the beauty the place has to offer and wishes she could stay forever. While at camp, she enjoys exploring the out-of-doors and discovering very cool things they hardly ever see. Good job Blair and congratulations!
